SANS INSTITUTE

The Internet has proven to be an invaluable business tool, providing an efficient means of accessing and delivering information, communicating within the office or around the globe, and as a new distribution channel. Businesses that rely on the Internet can become more competitive, increase employee productivity and lower operational costs.

THE INTERNET: THE GOOD, THE BAD AND THE UNDETECTED

Despite its inherent benefits, the Internet also has a dark side. It has become a breeding ground for email- and Web-based threats – from spam and viruses to spyware and fraudulent phishing attacks – threats that, if undetected, can expose the business to network security breaches, wasted time and unnecessary costs.

MX LOGIC CAN HELP INCREASE YOUR EMAIL AND WEB SECURITY

As email and Web threats converge and increase in number and complexity, managed security services from MX Logic can help organizations seamlessly and effortlessly protect their business networks. By partnering with MX Logic®, you don't need in-house online security expertise to keep your network and your employees safe from today's increasingly sophisticated and dangerous malware.

Trusted by thousands of businesses, state and local governments and educational institutions worldwide to protect their networks against Web and email threats, MX Logic designs its solutions to offer easy administration and use, and to provide effective, up-to-date protection against a wide range of online threats.

- Reduce business disruption
- Safeguard the integrity of business communications
- Increase employee productivity
- Lower IT costs associated with web and email threat management

MANAGED EMAIL AND WEB DEFENSE KEEPS THREATS SAFELY OUTSIDE YOUR NETWORK

MX Logic managed security services are fortified using a multilayered strategy to successfully block threats at the network perimeter before they can enter and harm the business network – a strategy that allows businesses to benefit from greater overall protection and a reduction in costs. Our managed services are more accurate, easier to implement, more cost-effective to maintain, and have a greater return on investment than software and server/gateway appliances. With MX Logic, businesses receive enterprise-grade service reliability and performance, without enterprise-level complexity and cost.

PROTECTING EMAIL BEYOND SPAM AND VIRUS THREATS

The risks associated with email are not limited to spam, viruses and other malicious threats. Email outages caused by power failures, hardware failures,
